It is possible to undertake a placement year as part of the programme. This assessed year will provide you with the opportunity to see how theory connects to practice in real world environments, while gaining valuable work experience. You will benefit from being able to apply knowledge gained on your course, while testing the applicability of theories in practice. You will also be able to advance the business skills which you will have begun to develop earlier in the course. The placement should be a stimulating experience which will assist in developing your employability. As part of this programme, you will spend a minimum of 32 weeks on a placement in Year 3. This placement may be in any area related to management, providing you with access to a wide range of organisations in which you can gain crucial business experience as part of your degree. If you fail your placement year you will not be able to resit the year internally and externally and will transfer to the BSc Hons Business Management programme.

During your degree you will be provided with specialist support to prepare you for your placement year. You will receive advice and training in preparing CVs and applications, in addition to selection procedures and business skills. This will assist you in successfully gaining a placement, while helping you to enhance skills which will also support you in the workplace, after graduation.

Whilst on placement, your Placement Provider is required by law to comply with safety regulations and ensure the workplace is safe. "Safe" is where risks have been controlled to a level required by specific regulations, or so far as is reasonably practical if there is no regulation in place.

It is important for those embarking on a placement to be aware of their responsibilities for themselves as well as for others, and to have knowledge concerning health and safety for when they are employed in a team.

As an employee, you must:

- Take reasonable care for the health and safety of yourself and others;
- Co-operate with your employer, which means abiding by the rules laid down in the Health and Safety arrangements of the workplace;
- Not interfere with or misuse anything provided for health, safety or welfare.

Failure to follow instructions from management that are connected to health and safety could lead, in the case of an accident, to employees as well as employers being held liable, so it is important that you take seriously any instructions given and ask for help if you do not understand any part of your role.

If you have concerns for your own safety or the safety of others, you should in the first instance report these to your Workplace Supervisor immediately. If the concerns cannot be resolved, you should follow the local procedures for reporting health and safety issues. You must inform us of all unresolved health and safety problems.

Further details on health and safety whilst on placement will be provided in your Placement Handbook.

A4 will be achieved through a mixture of online multimedia material, seminars and principally an individual dissertation project.

Assessment methods

Knowledge and understanding, strategies, concepts and management practices are assessed in each module. A1-A3 will be assessed through a combination of coursework, presentations, and examinations. Some modules have a group work element where marks are awarded as a group, but the larger percentage, or the entirety of a module, will be assessed by an individual's work. A4 is assessed primarily through an individual research project. Feedback is also provided throughout the programme based upon student contribution to activities through practical exercises and discussions in class.

B. Subject specific intellectual and research skills

Having successfully completed this programme you will be able to:

- B1. Understand how effective business management enables a diverse range of organisations to develop economic and social value;

- B2. Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the theories, concepts, tools and techniques used in business management;
- B3. Critically assess the challenges of developing new markets, customer relationships, services and processes;

You will learn to conduct independent research through a dedicated module on research methods and your work on a dissertation. This project which is undertaken in the third year will enable you to explore a business problem which is of interest to you. This is an extended, independent project and involves the delivery of a 10,000 word dissertation. You are required to identify a suitable topic; design and undertake an appropriate investigation plan; identify and access sources of relevant information; plan and manage the delivery of the project; liaise with the dedicated supervisor; and write a well-presented dissertation. This will assess B1-B4.

Assessment methods

Your ability to apply the intellectual and research skills that you have learnt is assessed by coursework or examination. You will receive feedback on your progress throughout the programme based upon your contribution to in-class activities and formative exercises. The dissertation is designed to test your ability to create an independent study under your own initiative and to demonstrate that you understand a particular issue in the business field. This important assessment addresses B2-B4. A supervisor will be assigned to assist you in approaching your dissertation, but it is your responsibility to manage and undertake the work.

C1 will be addressed primarily through individual statistics coursework and the dissertation, in addition to in-class tasks where students will work with case study material which consists of different sources of data, as part of formative exercises. C2 and C3 learning outcomes will be achieved through individual and group exercises. This may include report writing, essays, presentations, or simulations. C4 will be met through the production of written group or individual work for summative assessment.

Assessment methods

Some modules will involve an assessed presentation and group work, where students can demonstrate the above skills (C2-C4). Most modules require a written report and the award of BSc (Hons) requires a 10,000 word dissertation (C1-C4). Many modules and the dissertation will require the use of library resources.

They include but extend beyond your knowledge of an academic discipline and its technical proficiencies. Graduate Attributes are important because they equip you for the challenge of contributing to your chosen profession and may enable you to take a leading role in shaping the society in which you live.

We offer you the opportunity to develop these attributes through your successful engagement with the learning and teaching of your programme and your active participation in University life. The skills, knowledge and personal qualities that underpin the Graduate Attributes are supported by your discipline. Programme structure

Typical course content

This course structure is consistent with other undergraduate programmes in the pathway portfolio, although it also includes a placement year. You will study eight modules in each year of the degree, divided equally between the semesters. In Part 1, you will study a common year, to provide you with a basic overview of analytical techniques, skills, theory and knowledge relevant to a business degree. In Part 2, you will be able to choose three optional modules each semester to provide you with flexibility in your study. In Part 3 you will undertake a placement for a minimum of 32 weeks and complete a reflective log. This placement may be in any area related to business management. If you are unable to complete a placement, you will be transferred to the BSc Business Management programme. In the final year of the programme, you will submit a double-weighted project that gives you scope for investigating in depth, a business topic of your interest. This covers one compulsory module in the first semester and one compulsory in the second. In the final year, there are two further compulsory modules (one per semester) which look strategic and project management. There are two optional module choices per semester.
