Programme overview

Brief outline of the programme

Digital Marketing is totally pervasive in modern business, and the demand for knowledgeable and skilled marketing professionals has never been higher. From the rise of online advertising and the advent of social media, to the increasing importance of video, this constantly changing landscape presents marketers with both challenges and opportunities.

The MSc Digital Marketing programme at University of Southampton has been designed for students who have previously studied marketing at undergraduate level and who wish to develop a deeper understanding of the tools and techniques available to marketers today. This programme offers opportunities to explore the needs of the digital marketing industry, and students will learn a wide range of digital and social media related marketing knowledge and techniques.

The contact hours will vary depending on the module/option choices. Full information about contact hours is provided in individual module profiles.

The programme is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB), which is an internationally recognised award of excellence in business education.

Learning and teaching

Through a mixture of lectures, discussion, individual and group practical exercises, workshops, case studies, reading and assessed coursework, you will gain understanding and knowledge of the techniques and approaches of Digital Marketing. These different teaching methods ensure that knowledge and understanding is achieved at the level of expected of a Masters' graduate.

Assessment

Coursework set throughout the year may take the form of blogposts, presentations, reports or essays. Some tasks will be completed individually and others as a small group. The award of MSc degree requires a 15,000-word dissertation/project.

- Formative and summative assessment;
- Group/individual coursework;

- Exams;
- Presentation;

Educational aims of the programme

This programme aims to develop your knowledge and understanding of the evolving field of digital marketing. It provides you with education and training in the theory and application of the principles, concepts, approaches, purpose and practice of digital marketing in contemporary organisations. The programme is available in full time mode only.

The aims of the programme are to:

- Provide an appreciation of the value of digital marketing in modern organisations
- Develop an appreciation and understanding of the range and relationship of digital marketing applications, to help you prepare for or develop your career.
- Introduce and develop a breadth of knowledge in key digital marketing disciplines such as online marketing strategy, design and creativity, web applications, web analytics, marketing communications and media management and multi-channel retailing.
- Provide practicable training in applying the tools and techniques of key digital marketing disciplines
- Provide the opportunity to gain experience of applying the concepts and approaches learned
- Develop the ability to undertake rigorous, independent research.

Programme learning outcomes

A. Knowledge and understanding

Having successfully completed this programme you will be able to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of:

- A1. the concepts and techniques that are required for the effective implementation of the core digital marketing disciplines in contemporary organisations.
- A2. the decisions faced by organisations and the techniques and approaches that support the development of digital marketing across a broad range of functional areas.

Teaching and learning methods

You will achieve A1 and A2 through a mixture of lectures, individual and group practical exercises, workshops, case studies and reading.

Assessment methods

Achievement of A1 and A2 will be assessed through a combination of coursework, presentations, and examination. Some modules have a group work element where marks are awarded as a group, but the larger percentage, or the entirety of a module, will be assessed by an individual's work.

B. Subject specific intellectual and research skills

Having successfully completed the programme you will be able to:

- B1. Critically assess digital marketing problems.
- B2. Select and apply tools and techniques used in digital marketing for approaching a particular problem, and then reflect upon the selected approach.
- B3. Think analytically, reflectively, creatively and logically, drawing on useful approaches developed in a wide range of cognate disciplines.

Teaching and learning methods

You will achieve B1 and B2 through a mixture of lectures, individual and group practical exercises, workshops, case studies and reading. To achieve B3 your reflective and creative skills will be developed through exercises, case studies, coursework, and discussion groups.

Assessment methods

Achievement of B1 – B3 will be assessed through a combination of coursework, presentations, and examinations. Some modules have a group work element where marks are awarded as a group, but the larger percentage, or the entirety of a module, will be assessed by an individual's work.

C. Transferable and generic skills

Having successfully completed this programme you will be able to:

- C1. Collect and critically evaluate information.
- C2. Communicate ideas and arguments fluently and effectively in a variety of written formats.
- C3. Communicate ideas and arguments orally and through formal presentations.
- C4. Work effectively in a team and recognise problems associated with team working.
- C5. Manage yourself, time and resources effectively.
- C6. Use library and other resources effectively, and apply bibliographical skills.
- C7. Understand and, where appropriate, undertake leadership skills.
- C8. Tackle planning and problem solving skills.

Teaching and learning methods

Learning outcomes C1 – C8 will be achieved through the wide range of individual and group exercises and coursework set throughout the programme. At different points these will require research (C1 and C6), effective communication (C2 and C3), teamwork (C4), time management (C5), leadership (C7) and problem solving (C8).

Assessment methods

Achievement of C1 - C8 will be assessed through a combination of coursework, presentations, and examinations. Some modules have a group work element where marks are awarded as a group, but the larger percentage, or the entirety of a module, will be assessed by an individual's work

D. Subject specific practical skills

On successful completion of the programme, you will be able to:

- D1. develop technical, analytical and presentational skills.
- D2. apply the methods, techniques and skills learned in the taught part of the programme to a large project for the completion of the MSc.

Teaching and learning methods

D1 will be achieved on various modules throughout the programme and D2 by means of your final dissertation.

Assessment methods

Achievement of D1 and D2 will be assessed through a combination of coursework, presentations, and completion of the final dissertation.

Postgraduate Certificate learning outcomes

Having successfully completed the PG Certificate you will be able to demonstrate:

- An overview of the concepts and techniques that are required for the effective implementation of the core digital marketing disciplines in contemporary organisations;
- An outline appreciation of the decisions faced by organisations and the techniques and approaches that support the development of digital marketing across a broad range of functional areas.

You should be aware that as the PG Certificate is based on the attainment of credit rather than on passing specific modules you will be able to demonstrate the specific learning outcomes relating to the modules which you have passed.

Postgraduate Diploma learning outcomes

Having successfully completed the PG Diploma you will be able to demonstrate:

- A more comprehensive overview of the concepts and techniques that are required for the effective implementation of the core digital marketing disciplines in contemporary organisations;
- A reasonably detailed appreciation of the decisions faced by organisations and the techniques and approaches that support the development of digital marketing across a broad range of functional areas.

You should be aware that as the PG Diploma is based on the attainment of credit rather than on passing specific modules you will be able to demonstrate the specific learning outcomes relating to the modules which you have passed.

Programme structure

Methods for evaluating the quality of teaching and learning

You will have the opportunity to have your say on the quality of the programme in the following ways:

- Completing student evaluation surveys for each module of the programme
- Acting as a student representative on various committees, e.g. Staff: Student Liaison Committees, Faculty Programmes Committee OR providing comments to your student representative to feedback on your behalf.
- Serving as a student representative on Faculty Scrutiny Groups for programme validation
- Taking part in programme validation meetings by joining a panel of students to meet with the Faculty Scrutiny Group

The ways in which the quality of your programme is checked, both inside and outside the University, are:

- Regular module and programme reports which are monitored by the Faculty
- Programme validation, normally every five years.
- External examiners, who produce an annual report
- A national Research Assessment Exercise (our research activity contributes directly to the quality of your learning experience)
- Higher Education Review by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education

Career opportunities

Employers report significant skills shortages in this rapidly developing area which is relevant to organisations large and small in all economic sectors.

External Examiner(s) for the programme

Name Sarah Quinton

Institution. Oxford Brookes University

Students must not contact External Examiner(s) directly, and external examiners have been advised to refer any such communications back to the University. Students should raise any general queries about the assessment and examination process for the programme with their Course Representative, for consideration through Staff: Student Liaison Committee in the first instance, and Student representatives on Staff: Student Liaison Committees will have the opportunity to consider external examiners' reports as part of the University's quality assurance process.

External examiners do not have a direct role in determining results for individual students, and students wishing to discuss their own performance in assessment should contact their personal tutor in the first instance.

Please note: This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if s/he takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information can be found in the programme handbook (or other appropriate guide) or online at <https://www.sbs.ac.uk/>

As a research-led University, we undertake a continuous review of our programmes to ensure quality enhancement and to manage our resources. As a result, this programme may be revised during a student's period of registration; however, any revision will be balanced against the requirement that the student should receive the educational service expected. Please read our Disclaimer to see why, when and how changes may be made to a student's programme.

Programmes and major changes to programmes are approved through the University's programme validation process which is described in the University's Quality handbook.

Appendix 4:

3670 MSc Digital Marketing additional costs

Students are responsible for meeting the cost of essential textbooks, and of producing such essays, assignments, laboratory reports and dissertations as are required to fulfil the academic requirements for each programme of study. In addition to this, students registered for this programme typically also have to pay for the items listed in the table below.

In some cases you will be able to choose modules (which may have different costs associated with that module) which will change the overall cost of a programme to you. Details of such costs will be listed in the Module Profile. Please also ensure you read the section on additional costs in the University's Fees, Charges and Expenses Regulations in the University Calendar available at www.calendar.soton.ac.uk.

Main Item	Sub-section	PROGRAMME SPECIFIC COSTS
Approved Calculators		Candidates may use calculators in the examination room only as specified by the University and as permitted by the rubric of individual examination papers. The University approved models are Casio FX-570 and Casio FX-85GT Plus. These may be purchased from any source and no longer need to carry the University logo.
Stationery		You will be expected to provide your own day-to-day stationary items, e.g. pens, pencils, notebooks, etc). Any specialist stationery items will be specified under the Additional Costs tab of the relevant module profile.
Textbooks		Where a module specifies core texts these should generally be available on the reserve list in the library. However due to demand, students may prefer to buy their own copies. These can be purchased from any source. Some modules suggest reading texts as optional background reading. The library may hold copies of such texts, or alternatively you may wish to purchase your own copies. Although not essential reading, you may benefit from the additional reading materials for the module.
Printing and Photocopying		In most cases, written coursework such as essays; projects; dissertations are submitted online and by hard copy. The costs of printing a hard copy for submission of such coursework will be the responsibility of the student. The cost of photocopying will also be the responsibility of the student. https://www.southampton.ac.uk/isolutions/students/printing
