Programme Overview

Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway (16 weeks) is designed for International students from Taiwan who are aiming to join Southampton Business School and:

- need to improve their language skills as a condition of entry to the University of Southampton and have not met the English language requirements either for direct entry to a Pre-sessional A (11 weeks) or Pre-sessional B (6 weeks)

or

- have already met the English language conditions for entry to the University, but who want to find out more about the use of English in academic study and expectations relating to academic life in the UK.

PART 1 (5 weeks)	PART 2 (5 weeks)	PART 3 (6 weeks)
Online Boarding Pass Pre-sessional preparation course	Language Testing and Training Centre (LTTC) at National Taiwan University	Pre-sessional B / Pre-sessional B - Business (University of Southampton - UK)

Further information about the entry requirements for 'Boarding Pass' are available on the Southampton Business School Pre-sessional Programme web pages:

Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway will:

- help you to develop the English language skills you will need to follow a taught degree programme or undertake research at a UK university

- help you to develop the necessary study skills for effective learning through the medium of English
- introduce you to life in the UK and to UK culture
- give you a chance to settle in to a UK academic environment before starting your degree programme at the University of Southampton.

Students who successfully complete Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway with the minimum English level requirements (stated in your conditional offer from your admitting Faculty Recruitment and Admissions Team), will have met the English language requirements of the University of Southampton.

Special Features of the programme

To aid your learning, Pre-sessional Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway includes compulsory weekly independent learning sessions and academic advising sessions. You will also attend weekly lectures on subjects of academic interest, which are delivered by guest speakers from across the University.

Learning and teaching

The Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway consists of 3 stages. In part 1 you will complete a series of academic tasks and receive feedback from our experienced Academic English tutors, and upon completion you will join part 2 at LTTC. During part 2 at LTTC, and part 3 in Southampton, teaching of key skills will be integrated as much as possible, e.g. critical reading is an essential aspect of writing, speaking activities may take place as part of a reading class.

Online Boarding Pass (part 1) serves as a preparatory course, familiarising you with important concepts, preparing you for the levels of language and engagement that form essential parts of a Pre-sessional programme. When you join the Pre-sessional programme at LTTC (part 2) you will experience group activities, private study time, tutorials and more traditional language classes across each module.

Upon completion of parts 1 and 2 you will travel to the UK and join University of Southampton Pre-sessional B - Business (Part 3). This consists of five core modules: Academic Reading, Academic Writing, Academic Listening, Academic Speaking and Independent Learning. You will have approximately 21 University contact hours per week (excluding the assessment period) and an academic advising session. You will also be expected to carry out further independent study and complete assessments outside the classroom.

During Pre-sessional B, you will also attend weekly lectures, which are either subject specific or of general academic interest, and have tutorials with your tutors in which you receive feedback on your learning to help you further develop your language and academic skills.

Written, in-class and tutorial feedback will be provided to enable you to identify your strengths and weaknesses, and continue to develop your language and academic skills effectively. Tutors will give extensive guidance, especially through recommendations of reference and source materials. You will learn to take more responsibility for your own learning as the programme develops.

Please see separate Module specifications for more detail of each part of the Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway

Learning activities on the Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway include:

- academic writing tasks
- academic reading tasks e.g. identifying reliable sources
- academic oral interactions, including seminar work and presentations
- grammar and vocabulary work
- academic listening and note-taking activities e.g. from lectures or recorded sources
- information gathering activities i.e. research
- tutorials in which you will receive academic advice
- independent learning workshops.

Assessment

Part 1(Online) and part 2 (LTTC) of the Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway are preparatory and therefore are not formally assessed. There are however, formative writing assignments which integrate reading and research skills. Other skill areas are also not assessed, but serve to prepare you for the skills required in the University of Southampton assessments on Pre-sessional B - Business, which forms Part 3 of the Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway.

Your knowledge and understanding will be assessed in a variety of ways, which include examinations and coursework. Examinations assess your ability to apply your knowledge and understanding, often asking you to present an argument within a limited period. Coursework may include tasks such as essays, portfolio records, class presentations, and seminars. Coursework tests your ability to apply your knowledge and understanding of academic language and study skills, to work independently, and to construct an in-depth argument over a much longer period.

Please note: As a research-led University, we undertake a continuous review of our programmes to ensure quality enhancement and to manage our resources. As a result, this programme may be revised during a student's period of registration; however, any revision will be balanced against the requirement that the student should receive the educational service expected. Please read our Disclaimer to see why, when and how changes may be made to a student's programme.

Programmes and major changes to programmes are approved through the University's programme validation process which is described in the University's Quality handbook.

Educational Aims of the Programme

The key aims of Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway are to:

- consolidate and extend your existing English language knowledge and communication skills in order to facilitate under-graduate or post-graduate academic study
- develop the academic study skills required for study in higher education in the UK and familiarise yourself with the learning and teaching strategies used in higher education in the UK
- help you to adapt to life in the UK both within and beyond the academic environment.

Teaching and Learning Methods

Although there are separate modules, Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessionals language and study skills teaching will be integrated as much as possible. For example, when you join Pre-sessionals B – Business at the University of Southampton you will have one tutor who will teach Reading and Writing modules and one tutor who will teach Listening and Speaking modules.

We encourage the use of communicative teaching methods, and this means that any teaching session could include use of each of the four key language skills. You further develop your study skills through independent learning workshops and academic advising sessions. You will also attend lectures of academic interest, and all modules use online material.

Depending on the assessment type, written, in-class and tutorial feedback will be provided to enable you to identify your strengths and weaknesses, and continue to develop your language and academic skills effectively. Tutors will give extensive guidance, especially through recommendations of reference and source materials. You will learn to take more responsibility for your own learning as you move through the programme.

Assessment methods

Your knowledge and understanding will be assessed in a variety of ways, which include examinations and coursework. Examinations assess your ability to apply your knowledge and understanding, often asking you to present an argument within a limited period of time. Coursework may include tasks such as essays, class presentations, and seminars. These tasks test your ability to apply your knowledge and understanding of academic language and study skills, and to construct an in-depth argument over a much longer period of time.

The assessments you undertake are as per the table below. Formative assessment refers to those assessments for which you will receive feedback, whereas summative assessments count towards your final mark.

Feedback is also provided on your summative research essay.

Subject Specific Intellectual and Research Skills

Having successfully completed this programme you will be able to:

- B1. Recognise and understand academic vocabulary
- B2. Identify appropriate sources of information for your subject area
- B3. Locate resources for your subject area in the Hartley Library, Avenue LLC and online
- B4. Interpret and analyse a range of information from different sources
- B5. Extract, paraphrase and synthesise key information from written and spoken sources
- B7. Express facts, concepts and arguments clearly using appropriate language
- B8. Understand and present detailed reasoning.

Teaching and Learning Methods

The structure and content of Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway gives you the opportunity to develop a range of cognitive skills as you are introduced to the academic rigours of higher education in the UK. From the outset of the programme, cognitive skills are developed in communicative learning activities such as seminars, presentations, and discussions. Lectures develop the skills of processing and summarising information (internally and through note-taking and discussion). Critical thinking skills will be developed as you learn how to recognise subjectivity, analyse arguments objectively and to apply these skills in your own work. You further develop cognitive skills through researching and writing essays throughout the programme.

Depending on the assessment type, written feedback, oral in-class feedback and tutorial feedback is given to help you to identify any gaps in your cognitive skills. This allows you to develop your skills effectively by building on your strengths and addressing weaknesses or gaps in conveying subject specific knowledge, or processing relevant research.

Assessment methods

Assessment methods include examinations and coursework. Examinations, whether written or oral, test your overall thinking skills in conditions where time and support for reflection are limited, as often in real life. Coursework assessment provides formative and summative testing against the intended learning outcomes of the module concerned.

Assessment tasks are directly related to learning outcomes of modules and usually integrate thinking skills with language knowledge outcomes. For example, a class presentation and discussion on a specialist topic tests your ability to think through and organise your material in preparation, and to 'think on your feet' in discussion, as well as testing your topic knowledge, interactive skills, strategic competence, and your linguistic accuracy and fluency.

Transferable and Generic Skills

Having successfully completed this programme you will be able to:

- C1. Produce writing in appropriate academic genres and follow required conventions, including referencing
- C2. Employ a range of general and academic vocabulary appropriately
- C3. Apply a range of reading strategies to help you to read efficiently
- C4. Listen to, understand and take notes in lectures
- C5. Actively participate in discussions and tutorials
- C6. Prepare and deliver oral presentations, both individually and as part of a group
- C7. Work as a member of a team by cooperating with others, negotiating, listening to others in a group, sharing responsibilities & tasks and meeting deadlines
- C8. Adhere to guidelines and meet relevant deadlines
- C9. Set and monitor individual goals, reflect on your own learning and feedback, and have the confidence to seek help when needed
- C10. Use ICT to produce documents and other material using a computer.

Teaching and Learning Methods

Each Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway module (Academic Reading, Academic Writing, Academic Listening, Academic Speaking, Independent Learning) identifies specific linguistic and study / learning skills to be achieved. As the skills are rarely used in isolation, reading and writing modules are integrated within the Pre-sessional B syllabus as are the speaking and listening modules.

The Reading and Writing modules are structured to ensure the development of important transferable academic skills for both reading and writing, with tasks set to provide you with practice of the skills being covered in class. Before you arrive in Southampton, the LTTC Reading and Writing modules focus on structuring paragraphs and sentences, ordering and presenting content, developing fundamental reading strategies, familiarisation with academic texts, and how to begin incorporating reading into essays. To aid you in your future studies, when you arrive in Southampton, you will complete an online library induction at the start of the Pre-sessional B / B – Business programme.

The first part of the Reading and Writing modules focuses on how to find information, how to read efficiently and to take notes, how to write structured paragraphs and essays, how to incorporate information from outside sources in the form of paraphrase, summary and quotation and how to recognise different academic genres. The second part of the reading and writing modules aims to develop and refine those skills already learnt and focuses on critical thinking skills, improving accuracy and increasing awareness of academic demands and expectations. These skills are essential for study on future university programmes.

The Listening and Speaking modules are also integrated and are structured so that you focus on developing your listening and speaking skills simultaneously. Activities include preparing for and attending a weekly lecture in which you learn to listen effectively and to take appropriate and useful notes while listening; these notes are used later in classroom discussions. Your speaking skills are further enhanced through the development of your presentation and seminar skills. You will also focus on improving your pronunciation. All these skills are highly transferable.

The Independent Learning module supports the Academic Reading, Academic Writing, Academic Listening and Academic Speaking modules and is designed to equip you with the transferable study skills that you need to be successful in your future studies. The module is designed to work in partnership with the reading and writing, and listening and speaking syllabi.

In short, all the skills you develop on Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-sessional Pathway are transferable to your future studies and employment if you are in an English-speaking environment.

Assessment methods

The effectiveness of your communication, learning and research skills is tested through both assessed coursework and examinations, which involve writing of different kinds, group and individual projects, oral presentations and other interactive tasks.

Your use of ICT implicitly contributes to your assessment since it is a necessary condition for presenting much of your work.

If you complete the Pre-sessional Programme with the minimum English level requirements as set out in your conditional offer from your admitting Faculty Recruitment and Admissions Team, you will have met the English language requirements of the University of Southampton.

Support for student learning (University of Southampton)

There are facilities and services to support your learning some of which are accessible to students across the University and some of which will be geared more particularly to students in your particular Faculty or discipline area.

The University provides:

- library resources, including e-books, on-line journals and databases, which are comprehensive and up-to-date; together with assistance from Library staff to enable you to make the best use of these resources
- high speed access to online electronic learning resources on the Internet from dedicated PC Workstations onsite and from your own devices; laptops, smartphones and tablet PCs via the Eduroam wireless network. There is a wide range of application software available from the Student Public Workstations.
- computer accounts which will connect you to a number of learning technologies for example, the Blackboard virtual learning environment (which facilitates online learning and access to specific learning resources)
- standard ICT tools such as Email, secure filestore and calendars.
- access to key information through the MySouthampton Student Mobile Portal which delivers timetables, Module information, Locations, Tutor details, Library account, bus timetables etc. while you are on the move.
- IT support through a comprehensive website, telephone and online ticketed support and a dedicated helpdesk in the Hartley Library.
- Enabling Services offering support services and resources via a triage model to access crisis management, mental health support and counselling.
- assessment and support (including specialist IT support) facilities if you have a disability, long term health problem or Specific Learning Difficulty (e.g. dyslexia)
- the Student Services Centre (SSC) to assist you with a range of general enquiries including financial matters, accommodation, exams, graduation, student visas, ID cards

- Career Destinations, advising on job search, applications, interviews, paid work, volunteering and internship opportunities and getting the most out of your extra-curricular activities alongside your degree programme when writing your CV
- Other support that includes health services (GPs), chaplaincy (for all faiths) and 'out of hours' support for students in Halls (18.00-08.00) and ins-session courses providing assistance in the development of English language and study skills for non-native speakers.

The Students' Union provides

- an academic student representation system, consisting of Course Representatives, Academic Presidents, Faculty Officers and the Vice-President Education; SUSU provides training and support for all these representatives, whose role is to represent students' views to the University.
- opportunities for extracurricular activities and volunteering
- an Advice Centre offering free and confidential advice including support if you need to make an academic appeal
- support for student peer-to-peer groups, such as Nightline.

Methods for evaluating the quality of teaching and learning

You will have the opportunity to have your say on the quality of the programme in the following ways:

- completing online student evaluation questionnaires at the end of the programme
- completing a feedback questionnaire sent by the Students' Union

The ways in which the quality of your programme is checked, both inside and outside the University, are:

- regular module and programme reports which are monitored by the Faculty
- Programme validation, normally every five years.
- external examiners, who produce an annual report
- a national Research Assessment Exercise (our research activity contributes directly to the quality of your learning experience)
- Institutional Review by the Quality Assurance Agency

Criteria for Admission

The minimum English level requirements for Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-session Pathway will depend on the entry requirements for your chosen degree programme stated in your conditional offer from your admitting Faculty Recruitment and Admissions Team. For Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-session Pathway this will typically be 1.5 IELTS band below entry for your chosen degree programme.

Career Opportunities

The communication and research skills you will develop on Online Boarding Pass + LTTC Taiwan + Southampton Pre-session Pathway are highly transferable. The increased ability to work with peers, express ideas and understand complex language should mean that future career opportunities will be enhanced.

External Examiner(s) for the programme

Name: Mr Richard Hitchcock Institution: University of Portsmouth	Name: Ms Norlene Conway Institution: University of London

Students must not contact External Examiner(s) directly, and external examiners have been advised to refer any such communications back to the University. Students should raise any general queries about the assessment and examination process for the programme with their Course Representative, for consideration through Staff: Student Liaison Committee in the first instance, and Student representatives on Staff: Student Liaison Committees will have the opportunity to consider external examiners' reports as part of the University's quality assurance process.

External examiners do not have a direct role in determining results for individual students, and students wishing to discuss their own performance in assessment should contact their personal tutor in the first instance.

Please note: This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if s/he takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information can be found in the programme handbook (or other appropriate guide) or online at:
