Programme overview

Brief outline of the programme

The programme engages and enlightens you in all aspects of fashion marketing and fashion brand building and brand management. The programme focuses on the latest industry developments, successful fashion brands as well as the most relevant academic research.

A key part of the student learning, therefore, centres around guest lectures from fashion industry professionals, which will be delivered on a regular basis.

Key areas covered include fashion marketing and new media, fashion trend forecasting, supply chain management, fashion brand strategy and fashion consumer behaviour. Emerging fashion markets and cities are also a key feature of this programme where students are given the freedom to study fashion brands from very different cultures.

The programme enables you to build in-depth understanding and critical awareness of the global fashion industry and the latest developments in an ever changing environment. At the same time the programme allows to develop expertise in the theoretical issues and models that underpin the fashion marketing and brand building process as well as gain detailed practical knowledge and understanding.

As a result, this programme should appeal to students seeking careers as International Fashion Brand Managers or Fashion Marketing Strategists or positions in fashion marketing communications. .

Key areas such as Fashion Branding Strategies, Fashion Consumer Behaviour and Fashion Marketing and New Media will be investigated thoroughly and critically as part of this programme, and augmented by presentations from leading fashion industry practitioners and experts in the field.

Your contact hours will vary depending on your module/option choices. Full information about contact hours is provided in individual module profiles.

Special features of the programme

This programme distinguished itself most with its links with the international fashion industry. As a result normally trips to international fashion events feature prominently as well as regular talks from leading fashion industry professionals.

Two further special features of this programme include the focus on new media and emerging fashion markets. Core and option modules of this programme allow students to develop in-depth knowledge of the latest new media developments and how they continue to change all aspects of fashion marketing and branding. Students are also exposed to a very wide variety of fashion brands and different cultural environments, including developed as well as developing countries/regions, eg Asia, South America and the Middle East.

Learning and teaching

The Faculty promotes a student-centred approach and this programme uses teaching and learning strategies that will support you to develop into expert post-graduate level design management professionals.

Teaching and learning methods include: lectures and tutorials, collaborative on-line learning groups, facilitated discussions, guest speaker presentations and self-directed study, staff and student- led seminars and case study analysis . These methods are designed to integrate theory and practice, to foster a spirit of enquiry, promote collaborative learning and meet a range of learner needs and styles. Key transferable skills are encouraged via the learning and teaching activities throughout the programme. An overview of the learning relationship between you and the University is provided in the University of Southampton Student Charter. The Faculty and School of Art is committed to supporting you to enable you to fulfil your academic and personal potential. We will work with you to facilitate your learning, within a multi-cultural context underpinned by mutual respect.

Assessment

Throughout the programme you will be involved in learning through assessment. Assessment tasks will be formative and summative: formative assessment is not marked and is designed to enable you to gain from self-evaluation, peer and academic verbal and written feedback, in order to improve your work for the summative assessment.

The summative assessment includes a range of assignments used to enable you to demonstrate the achievement of intended learning outcomes. Assessment is designed to help you demonstrate your knowledge, critical understanding and application of essential concepts of your design management discipline. Within the programme modules the approach to assessment is designed to enable you to integrate theory and practice, maximise your skills of critical thinking and analysis, and develop your understanding of creative industry management in relation to your profession.

Educational aims of the programme

The aims of the programme are to:

- To promote originality, insight and critical reflective abilities
- To apply a range of techniques and research methods to your specialist field
- To behave ethically and with integrity and a strong sense of social responsibility
- To develop a range of professional skills relevant to the creative industries including the use of digital tools
- To take responsibility for independent learning and continuing professional development
- To enable an international perspective with a critical awareness of current issues and developments in your subject and profession

Programme learning outcomes

A. Knowledge and understanding

Having successfully completed this programme you will be able to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of:

- A1. current theories and practices arising from your in-depth research and enquiry
- A2. the challenges of leading and managing creativity in global contexts and multidisciplinary teams
- A3. systematic insight into organisations and professional skills relevant to the creative economy
- A4. the contemporary context and culture of fashion marketing and branding and the creative industries
- A5. ethical and sustainability debates relevant to fashion marketing and branding issues and employability
- A6. a range of contemporary contexts relevant to the global creative industries and informed by leading research

Teaching and learning methods

The programme employs a variety of learning and teaching methods designed to recognise different learning styles and support you in developing and achieving the learning outcomes. Engagement with academic staff, guest speakers and industry-related opportunities will enhance the currency of syllabus content and help establish in-depth knowledge of such organisations and the creative economy, with particular reference to professional skills.

You will be expected to take an active role in your learning and one of the many benefits of this approach is that it enables you to reflect on the continuum of knowledge acquisition whilst enabling you to apply this within your context. You will be expected to be reflective and self-aware of your learning needs and those of others who may have different perspectives and backgrounds.

You will develop your knowledge and understanding through staff –led teaching and independent learning time.

Teaching methods will include:

- Lectures
- Interactive workshops
- research skills inductions
- tutor-led seminars
- student-led seminars
- tutorials
- case study analysis
- visiting lecturers

Learning methods, that include independent learning during non-contact time, will include:

- reflection on verbal or written feedback: this may be verbal or written offered during seminars, tutorials, group activities
- evaluation of feedback: this may take the form of reflective formative tasks
- group and collaborative projects and tasks
- optional study visits
- independent research and investigation
- online reference material research
- peer group learning and peer assessment tasks
- problem-solving activities
- class discussion/critiques
- student presentations

Assessment methods

The programme will employ a range of assessment and feedback approaches to ensure that the assessment strategy is progressive in complexity and enables you to achieve the learning outcomes whilst enhancing your learning experiences.

Formative (not-marked) assessment will be undertaken at key stages within the taught Semesters 1 and 2, in order to provide you with the ability to evaluate your learning and address any identified issues in advance of your summative (marked) assessment.

Ongoing feedback will be provided from your academic tutor, module lead and peers.

Summative assessment of your knowledge and understanding will be undertaken through formal assessment of work. The assignments are designed to develop and test your growing knowledge and understanding of the subject area.

Formative and Summative assessment methods to test knowledge and understanding for the programme will include:

- oral presentations (group and individual)
- written assignments (essays, reports, and a final project/critical paper)
- digital and visual assignments.

B. Subject specific intellectual and research skills

Having successfully completed this programme you will be able to:

- B1. think in a critically reflective and creative manner
- B2. research, critique and apply analysis of theoretical studies in fashion marketing and branding
- B3. identify and analyse data and information to evaluate their relevance and validity using a range of sources
- B4. organise and synthesise a range of complex written and visual information arising from new and changing situations
- B5. recognise your own academic strengths and weaknesses, reflecting on your performance and progress and be able to respond to feedback
- B6. apply critical judgement to advance your research and intellectual skills

Teaching and learning methods

Similarly to your knowledge and understanding skills, you will be provided with resources to enable you to further develop your knowledge base encouraging Masters level thinking with the possibility of progressing to doctoral level after completing this programme. The teaching and learning strategies are the same as above with a focus on a variety of face-to-face contact and online learning and teaching methods

The programme employs a variety of learning and teaching methods designed to recognise different learning styles and support you in developing and achieving critical, reflective and research learning outcomes appropriate to Masters' level. You will be expected to develop an increasingly self-aware approach to learning, managing your learning progress. Teaching and learning strategies that will enable you to demonstrate application of critical, reflective and analytical thinking will include:

- lectures
- academic study skills sessions
- tutor-led seminars
- tutorials
- case study analysis
- visiting Lecturers
- Independent learning, including reflection and evaluation of feedback
- group projects and formative collaborative tasks
- study visits
- independent research
- online reference material and tutorial notes
- peer group learning
- class discussions

Assessment methods

Formative (not-marked) assessment will be undertaken at key stages within the taught Semesters 1 and 2, in order to provide you with the ability to evaluate your learning and address any identified issues in advance of your summative (marked) assessment.

Ongoing feedback will be provided from your academic tutor, module lead and peers.

Summative assessment of your intellectual and research skills will be undertaken through formal assessment of work. The assignments are designed to develop and test your growing ability to research, reflect and critically examine topics appropriate to your subject area.

Formative and Summative assessment methods to test knowledge and understanding for the programme will include:

- case studies,
- presentations,
- reflective essays,
- reports

C. Transferable and generic skills

Having successfully completed this programme you will be able to:

- C1. take responsibility for your own learning development and academic integrity
- C2. demonstrate ability to work effectively individually and in a team role, solving problems in innovative and creative ways
- C3. demonstrate awareness of ethical considerations
- C4. communicate effectively using a range of media (for example orally, in writing and through digital media)
- C5. manage your time and resources as an independent learner
- C6. evidence the ability to successfully manage and complete an independent project

Teaching and learning methods

Teaching and learning activities are embedded within all of the taught modules to enable you to develop your transferable skills. You will develop transferable communication skills using a variety of media, together with the ability to apply an understanding of ethical and legal frameworks to your work. This will be facilitated through academic study and professional skills sessions, tutor-led and student-led seminars and collaborative projects. Engagement in individual and group work will promote your ability to take responsibility for your own work and critically reflect on it in a manner that promotes self-awareness and personal development. This will also provide an opportunity for you to work in unfamiliar contexts within a group or team. The Final Project module will provide you with further opportunities to practice working effectively and independently with limited supervision and to exercise your time management skills.

Assessment methods

The methods of assessment are the same as the previous two sections with ongoing feedback provided from your academic tutor, module lead and peers.

The assessment methods are designed to enable you to demonstrate achievement of the transferable and generic skills learning outcomes, which will include your ability to communicate effectively your ideas and concepts, across a wide range of media, appropriate to your academic and professional context. Time management will be assessed through research proposals, where you will be required to plan your final project as an independent learner.

E. Disciplinary specific learning outcomes

Having successfully completed this programme you will be able to:

- E1. Demonstrate advanced level techniques in tackling fashion brand case studies.
- E2. Explain how key fashion marketing and branding theories and models relate to and enable understanding of fashion consumer behaviour
- E3. Apply creative and critical thinking to key dilemmas facing fashion brands in a variety of international contexts
- E4. Absorb and evaluate big data from a variety of sources and justify appropriate fashion marketing activities and strategies

Teaching and learning methods

In developing subject specific knowledge in your chosen discipline, you will be supported by highly experienced academics who, as experts in the field, will facilitate you as Fashion Brand Managers to understand the knowledge and skills required to confidently lead and work in the creative industries. This will include critically analysis and developing your ability to think about your creative and analytical thinking within a global design industry context.

Assessment methods

As above, the assessment methods will include formative and summative assignments, to evidence your evidencing your advanced level knowledge and experience of Fashion Marketing and Branding. Ongoing feedback will be provided from your academic tutor, module lead and peers.

Postgraduate Certificate learning outcomes

Having successfully completed the PG Certificate you will be able to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of:

- An overview of the current theories and practices arising from your in-depth research and enquiry
- An outline appreciation of the challenges of leading and managing creativity in global contexts and multidisciplinary teams
- An understanding of systematic insight into organisations and professional skills relevant to the creative economy
- An appreciation of the contemporary context of your discipline within its global industry
- An overview of ethical and sustainability debates relevant to the discipline and employability

You should be aware that as the PG Certificate is based on the attainment of credit rather than on passing specific modules and you will be able to demonstrate the specific learning outcomes relating to the modules which you have passed.

Postgraduate Diploma learning outcomes

Having successfully completed the PG Diploma you will be able to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of:

- A more comprehensive overview of the current theories and practices arising from your in-depth research and enquiry
- A reasonably detailed appreciation of the challenges of leading and managing creativity in global contexts and multidisciplinary teams
- A more comprehensive understanding of systematic insight into organisations and professional skills relevant to the creative economy
- A more detailed appreciation of the contemporary context of your discipline within its global industry
- A more detailed appreciation of ethical and sustainability debates relevant to the discipline and employability

You should be aware that as the PG Diploma is based on the attainment of credit rather than on passing specific modules and you will have been able to demonstrate the specific learning outcomes relating to the modules which you have passed.

Programme structure

Programme details

The programme consists of core, compulsory and optional modules. (For definitions see: <http://www.calendar.soton.ac.uk/sectionIV/credit-bearing-progs.html> )

Taught modules are delivered in Semesters 1 and 2, while the Final Project module is a student-led independent project carried out over the summer period.

The core modules provide in depth knowledge relevant to the specialist concepts and methods of Fashion Marketing and Branding. The compulsory modules consider a broad range of subject specific and employability related fashion marketing and branding. Additionally you will engage in academic skills related to conducting research, synthesizing and analysing data and writing up your work in accordance with academic expectations appropriate to this level of study. These academic skills are taught alongside general professional skills, whilst a separate 'Contextual Studies' module will provide you with a applied understanding and knowledge of issues more specifically linked to Fashion Marketing and Branding. The Option module in Semester 2 provides you with an opportunity to further enhance the career-orientation of your studies and tailor your programme towards your professional aspirations.

You will be able to apply the knowledge and skills you develop on the programme through a Final Project, giving you an opportunity to develop an area of personal expertise.

Typical course content

Regular guest lectures from fashion industry professionals dominate throughout and lectures and seminars feed off the information and insight gained.

The first semester of this programme focuses on all aspects of fashion consumer behaviour and in particular allows students to examine fashion consumption across a wide variety of cultures. Students are encouraged to compare fashion brand consumption across developed and developing countries.

Other key areas covered during the first semester include latest fashion industry developments such as the use of new media and changes in fashion marketing and branding activities and campaigns.

The second semester is driven by international fashion brand case studies where students are placed in the role of fashion brand strategist and required to recommend and justify future brand building strategies.

Information about pre and co-requisites is included in individual module profiles.

Summary structure of the programme

See Appendix 3

Assessment mapping

See Appendix 2

Additional costs

You are responsible for meeting the cost of essential textbooks, and of producing such essays, assignments, laboratory reports and dissertations as are required to fulfil the academic requirements for each programme of study. Costs that students registered for this programme typically also have to pay for are included in Appendix 4.

Progression requirements

The programme follows the University's regulations for Progression, Determination and Classification of Results: Standalone Masters Programmes as set out in the University Calendar.

Intermediate exit points

You will be eligible for an interim exit award if you complete part of the programme but not all of it, as follows:

Methods for evaluating the quality of teaching and learning

You will have the opportunity to have your say on the quality of the programme in the following ways:

- Completing student evaluation surveys for each module of the programme
- Acting as a student representative on various committees, e.g. Staff: Student Liaison Committees, Faculty Programmes Committee OR providing comments to your student representative to feed back on your behalf.
- Serving as a student representative on Faculty Scrutiny Groups for programme validation
- Taking part in programme validation meetings by joining a panel of students to meet with the Faculty Scrutiny Group

The ways in which the quality of your programme is checked, both inside and outside the University, are:

- Regular module and programme reports which are monitored by the Faculty
- Programme validation, normally every five years.
- External examiners, who produce an annual report
- A national Research Assessment Exercise (our research activity contributes directly to the quality of your learning experience)
- Higher Education Review by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education

Criteria for admission

The University's Admissions Policy applies equally to all programmes of study. The following are the typical entry criteria to be used for selecting candidates for admission. The University's approved equivalencies for the requirements listed below will also be acceptable. The entry criteria for our programmes are reviewed annually by the Faculty. Please note these are the entry requirements for the Academic year 2018/19. ## Career opportunities

This programme provides students with career opportunities in all areas of fashion marketing and branding but in particular the programme has been designed to enable students continue their careers in the following:

- International Fashion Brand Manager
- Global Supply Chain Manager
- Fashion Marketing Strategy Analyst
- Fashion Marketing Promotions Analyst

In addition, students are supported in their desire to start and develop their own fashion brand.

External Examiner(s) for the programme

Name: Professor Qing Wang      Institution: Warwick Business School

Students must not contact External Examiner(s) directly, and external examiners have been advised to refer any such communications back to the University. Students should raise any general queries about the assessment and examination process for the programme with their Course Representative, for consideration through Staff: Student Liaison Committee in the first instance, and Student representatives on Staff: Student Liaison Committees will have the opportunity to consider external examiners' reports as part of the University's quality assurance process.

External examiners do not have a direct role in determining results for individual students, and students wishing to discuss their own performance in assessment should contact their personal tutor in the first instance.

Please note: This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if s/he takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information can be found in the programme handbook (or other appropriate guide) or online at <http://www.southampton.ac.uk/wsa/index.page>

As a research-led University, we undertake a continuous review of our programmes to ensure quality enhancement and to manage our resources. As a result, this programme may be revised during a student's period of registration; however, any revision will be balanced against the requirement that the student should receive the educational service expected. Please read our Disclaimer to see why, when and how changes may be made to a student's programme.

Programmes and major changes to programmes are approved through the University's programme validation process which is described in the University's Quality handbook.

Appendix 4

7821 MA Fashion Marketing and Branding additional costs

Students are responsible for meeting the cost of essential textbooks, and of producing such essays, assignments, laboratory reports and dissertations as are required to fulfil the academic requirements for each programme of study. In addition to this, students registered for this programme typically also have to pay for the items listed in the table below

In some cases you will be able to choose modules (which may have different costs associated with that module) which will change the overall cost of a programme to you. Details of such costs will be listed in the Module Profile. Please also ensure you read the section on additional costs in the University's Fees, Charges and Expenses Regulations in the University Calendar available at www.calendar.soton.ac.uk.

Main Item	Sub-section	PROGRAMME SPECIFIC COSTS
Approved Calculators		The University approved models are Casio FX-570 and Casio FX-85GT Plus. These may be purchased from any source and no longer need to carry the University logo.
Stationery		You will be expected to provide your own day-to-day stationary items, e.g. pens, pencils, notebooks, etc). Any specialist stationery items will be specified under the Additional Costs tab of the relevant module profile.
Textbooks		Where a module specifies core texts these should generally be available on the reserve list in the library. However due to demand, students may prefer to buy their own copies. These can be purchased from any source.  Some modules suggest reading texts as optional background reading. The library may hold copies of such texts, or alternatively you may wish to purchase your own copies. Although not essential reading, you may benefit from the additional reading materials for the module.
Equipment and Materials Equipment	Art Equipment and Materials: Drawing paper; painting materials; sketchbooks	Students on the Studio pathways will be required to purchase Sketchbooks the cost of which will vary.
	Art Equipment and Materials: Fabric, Thread, Wool	Students taking the Studio based Fashion Design and Textile Design Pathway will be required to purchase their own materials, the cost of which will vary. A student can choose the quality.
	Design equipment and materials:	Standard construction/modelling materials will be provided where appropriate, unless otherwise specified in a module profile.  For customisation of designs/models calling for material other than standard construction/ modelling materials, students will bear the costs of such alternatives.
Printing and Photocopying Costs	Written Coursework	In most cases, written coursework such as essays; projects; dissertations are submitted online and by hard copy. The costs of printing a hard copy for submission of such coursework will be the responsibility of the student.  The cost of photocopying will also be the responsibility of the student. https://www.southampton.ac.uk/isolutions/students/printing
	Portfolio	Printing for the collation of a student's portfolio will be the responsibility of the student.
Optional Visits (e.g. museums, galleries)		Some modules may include optional visits to a museum, galleries, or industry. You will normally be expected to cover the cost of travel, admission and food unless otherwise specified in the module profile.
Parking Costs		Free parking is not normally available on campus to students.
Travel		The Union Southampton provide a mini free bus service which runs every 2 hours between the Winchester Campus and the Highfield Campus. Students are responsible for all other daily travel expenses.
