Role purpose
The Dean has general executive management responsibility within the Faculty, is the budget holder and has three primary duties:

- Leading the successful formation and delivery of the Faculty’s academic plan and financial performance as part of delivering University Strategy;
- Contribute to leading the overall strategic development of the University, taking on specific institution-wide responsibilities;
- External representation of the University and Faculty for the purposes of growing income and contributing to the University development activities.

Key accountabilities/primary responsibilities
The Dean may delegate particular duties and responsibilities to other members of the Faculty team as appropriate, but the Dean remains accountable to the Provost (on behalf of the Vice-Chancellor) in all respects for such delegated duties and responsibilities. These duties and responsibilities include:

Leadership, management and administration in the University and wider community

- To work effectively as a member of the University Executive Group in the strategic management and leadership of the University.
- To act as line manager for the leadership team within the Faculty.
- To be accountable for the management, performance and development of the Faculty’s academic staff.
- To manage the delivery of services by support staff within the Faculty on a day to day basis.
- To lead and proactively develop all Faculty relations with alumni.
- To be accountable for the implementation of University policy and procedures within the Faculty, including implementing equality and diversity aspirations.
- To lead the promotion of the Faculty on behalf of the University to external stakeholders.

Education Leadership and Strategy
Key accountabilities/primary responsibilities

- To lead the Faculty in developing and implementing its academic plan for excellence in research and education and the achievement of agreed Faculty performance targets including finance and research grant and tuition fee income.
- To be accountable for matters relating to the admission, recruitment, education and welfare of students.
- Working within the agreed core administrative structure, to organise and manage the Faculty to achieve academic and performance goals.

Research Leadership and Strategy

- To ensure, within the limits of available resources, that effective arrangements exist within the Faculty for the successful prosecution of academic excellence in research and education within the framework set by the Pro Vice Chancellors in pursuit of the Faculty’s academic plan.
- To work with Research and Innovation Services and the Development office to identify and exploit new opportunities to grow sources of income for the Faculty.
- Any other duties as allocated by the line manager following consultation with the post holder.
