

The Office for National Statistics (ONS) London site is at Drummond Gate in Pimlico, close to the Thames Embankment, Westminster Abbey and the Houses of Parliament. There are numerous restaurants, shops and theatres nearby, while major shopping and entertainment areas such as Oxford Circus and Covent Garden are also within easy reach by Tube.

How to find us

By road

The office stands on the corner of Vauxhall Bridge Road and Drummond Gate. A limited number of parking spaces are available and can be booked by telephoning 01633 456060.

By rail

The office is next to Pimlico Tube station (take the Tate Gallery exit) which is on the Victoria line. The main line stations of Victoria and Vauxhall are also close by.

By bus

Numerous bus routes run past the office, including the C10, 2, 185, 436, 360 and 36.

What do we do?

Drummond Gate is home to the National Accounts for the UK, and is the main ONS base for economic analysis. The premises are also home to the newly-formed UK Statistics Authority.

As in most organisations, ONS offers opportunities at a variety of levels - from administrative roles through to senior management. In any role you may find yourself dealing with customers, who include the public, academics, businesses, national press and other government departments.

What else is on site?

The site is an open-plan office, has a vending machine together with showering facilities and a small car park, although space is limited.
