Overview

The Global Talent visa is not sponsored by the University and allows the most highly skilled to come to the UK without a job offer. This visa caters for recognised leaders (talented) and the leaders of tomorrow (promising) individuals in science, humanities, engineering, the arts (including film, fashion design and architecture) and digital technology, with individual’s unique skill enriching the UK’s knowledge, economy and society.

There are normally two stages to be considered for entry under the Global Talent visa. Firstly, applicants must gain an endorsement from one of six endorsing bodies, approved by the Home Office. Once verified, this enables progression to stage two, visa application. The endorsement can be applied for first, or both stages completed at the same time. See below for further details. An applicant who has been awarded a prestigious prize (as listed in Appendix Global Talent: Prestigious Prizes of the Immigration rules) will already be considered as showing exceptional talent and therefore does not need to apply for an endorsement.

The six endorsing bodies are:

- The British Academy, for humanities
- The Royal Academy of Engineering
- The Royal Society, for science and medicine
- UK Research and Innovation (UKRI)
- Arts Council England for art and culture
- Tech Nation for digital technology

There are four routes for eligible academics and researchers to obtain endorsement for a Global Talent visa:

- Academic and research appointments (Path 1): Fast-track endorsement for individuals who have accepted a position at an approved UK higher education institution (HEI) or research institute with responsibility for academic, research or innovation leadership and development, or for directing or leading an individual or team in a research or innovation project or programme of work. Endorsing bodies: The British Academy, The Royal Academy of Engineering, The Royal Society

- Individual fellowships (Path 2): Fast-track endorsement for individuals who have been awarded an individual fellowship on the list approved by the British Academy, Royal Academy of Engineering and the Royal Society. The fellowship must be current or within the last 5 years before the date of application. Endorsing bodies: The British Academy, The Royal Academy of Engineering, The Royal Society

- Endorsed funders (Path 3): Fast-track endorsement for researchers and specialists whose name or job title is specified in a successful grant application from an endorsed funder approved by UKRI. In order to be eligible, researchers must be hosted or employed by an eligible institution approved by UKRI. Endorsing body: UK Research and Innovation

- Peer review (Path 4): Standard endorsement for individuals submitting an application for full peer review. Endorsing bodies: The British Academy, The Royal Academy of Engineering, The Royal Society

Benefits

Once endorsed or if a prestigious prize held, the individual must apply for a visa and, subject to criminality and immigration checks, be given a highly flexible permission enabling them to:

- Work for employers or be self-employed
- Change jobs without informing the Home Office
- Travel abroad and return to the UK for research purposes
- Bring dependents with the visa holder

Additionally, this visa route benefits from:

- No sponsor requirements
- No English language test
- No minimum salary threshold
- Candidate flexibility:
  - Consultancy
  - Other roles not necessary to be in same area
- Fast track for settlement in 3 years (normally 5 years)
- Research permitted outside UK without time limit
- No monthly cap on numbers awarded GTV.

Timeframe

Endorsement: Eight weeks unless fast track route available (when decision takes one week).

Visa: Can be applied for maximum of three months before travel to the UK. Decision on visa should be within three weeks when applying from outside the UK or within eight weeks if applying inside the UK.

Priority and Super Priority Services exist to pay for a speedier decision. Details: https://www.gov.uk/guidance/visa-decision-waiting-times-applications-outside-the-uk#faster
Stage one: Endorsement options

Unless awarded a prestigious prize, the applicant must apply to be endorsed by one of the Designated Competent Bodies who have been given authority by the Home Office to determine who meets the visa criteria:

- The Royal Society
- The British Academy
- The Royal Academy of Engineering
- The Arts Council
- UK Research and Innovation (UKRI)
- Tech Nation (endorsing Digital Technology applications)

Cost

Check current fee and further information https://www.gov.uk/global-talent. In all cases, the endorsement costs are non-refundable. If successful, please see the Visa Reimbursement Policy.

Path options

Each of the four paths have specific pre-requisites and actions required by prospective employer and/or candidate. Key points are detailed on the following pages.
1. Academic or Research Appointment
Have you accepted an offer of an academic or research appointment at an institution (in this case the University of Southampton) approved by the British Academy, Royal Academy of Engineering and Royal Society?

| Yes | No |

2. Individual Fellowship
Have you been awarded an individual fellowship on the list approved by the British Academy, Royal Academy of Engineering and Royal Society?

| Yes | No |

3. Endorsed Funder
Are you working on a research grant issued by an endorsed funder on the list approved by UK Research and Innovation (UKRI)?

| Yes | No |

4. Peer Review
Check the eligibility and assessment criteria for standard endorsement and submit an application for peer review by the British Academy, Royal Academy of Engineering and Royal Society.

The British Academy reviews standard ‘exceptional talent and promise’ applications from the humanities and social sciences, Royal Academy of Engineering covers engineering, and the Royal Society covers natural and medical sciences. If you do not meet the criteria for standard endorsement, you may still be eligible for a Skilled Worker visa. If you are coming to the UK for the purposes of collaboration, training or knowledge exchange, you may apply through The Government Authorised Exchange visa route.

If you have been offered a role with responsibility for academic, research or innovation leadership and development OR for directing or leading an individual or a team in a research innovation project or programme of work and you meet the necessary recruitment requirements, you need a statement of guarantee from the Executive Director of HR at the employing institution (in this case the University of Southampton) to support your application for a fast-track visa.

If your fellowship is listed and you currently hold it or have held it within the last 5 years, you must submit a copy of the award letter as part of your application for a fast-track visa.

If you, as an individual, or your role is named in a successful grant application from an endorsed funder, you need to provide a link to the grant/award from a UKRI-approved database or provide the grant/award letter, along with a statement of guarantee from the employing or hosting institution as part of your application for a fast-track visa. Both the funder and the institution must be on the approved UKRI list.

Under the endorsed funder pathway, eligibility extends to the principal investigator (P.I.), coinvestigators (Co I.) and team roles stated in the grant application at graduate level and above – for example, postdoctoral researchers, research assistants, technologists and methodologists. Eligible individuals must spend at least 50% of their work time on fulfilling the grant conditions (principal investigators or co-investigators holding multiple grants may demonstrate 50% in aggregate). A minimum award threshold of £30,000 applies and the minimum grant duration is 2 years.

Individuals must have at least 1 year left on their employment contract to be eligible.
